Mid-year assessment: 2013 has gotten off to a roaring start for Global Jet

Nearly 6 months in the year and Global Jet can already draw-up a positive report on 2013. The Geneva-based company keeps on growing. Its expansion strategy knows no setback. Since January, 10 new aircraft joined the fleet. Either private or commercial, these planes confirm the major role Global Jet plays on the private aviation market. With more than 65 aircraft, from all sizes and manufacturers, Global Jet can now claim its European leader position with pride. The Charter Sales Department of the company has definitely benefited from this expansion. Eight aircraft came to swell the ranks of the commercial fleet: 3 Gulfstream G550s - one of them is from 2013, equipped with the latest technologies (WIFI, Iphone and Ipad stations, massage seats...)-1 Global Express XRS, 1 Falcon 2000EX Easy, 1 Falcon 50, 1 Hawker 900XP, 1 Cessna Citation CJ2. To offer a perfect window to all of these aircraft, Global Jet decided to re-design its corporate website. The launch of this new, sleek and improved platform happened in April. www.globaljetconcept.com Easy to navigate, it features original applications such as 360° interior views of the charter aircraft, interactive floor plans, high-resolution pictures. This website has been created to work on every device. Tablets and smartphones' users can now enjoy it at any time. ■
