

GLOBAL JET

Because luxury is what you expect

For people who know what they want, and are accustomed to getting it, Global Jet is not a luxury. The quality of service is geared entirely towards this clientele, which has forged the reputation of the company since it was founded in 2000, and made Global Jet a leader in business aviation. Global Jet's head office is located in Geneva, but it also has sales representations in Paris, Moscow and Beijing and Monaco. Throughout the world, the team of over 500 aviation specialists assists you and anticipates your needs. With their particularly wide range of aircraft, they are able to meet all your requirements in terms of capacity, facilities and range. There's no limit on service before, during and after the flight.
