BRAND NEW STUNNING 450 AVAILABLE FOR CHARTER IN EUROPE

PRESS OFFICE: PRESS RELEASE

IMMEDIATE RELEASE: 8th August 2017

Following sizeable development costs of $750m, manufacturer Embraer recently launched the brand new Legacy 450 and international operator, Global Jet has just been appointed, by a discerning owner to manage and operate, one of the few charter aircraft available in Europe.

Fly by wire cutting edge technology, the Legacy 450 is ideally suited for the European charter market. With an ability to fly into short runways, ideal for fast and safe city pair trips. The manufacturer highlights that Legacy has the best cabin pressurization in its class, delivering maximum comfort by reducing the impact of jetlag. As you would expect from a 'clean sheet' design, the 8 passenger* 6ft tall and 24ft long cabin has the latest entertainment systems with a wide range of connectivity options including Swift Broadband High Speed Data & Wi-Fi connection.

In keeping with Global Jet's reputation for providing a supreme level of service as proven by the 70+ long-range corporate jets currently under management, "the company is focusing on fulfilling strong client demand for mid-light aircraft" comments Bjorn Naberhuis VP for Business Development. "The Legacy 450 slots perfectly for the inter Europe trips, either for business or leisure and this is all about efficiency" highlights Bjorn Naberhuis. The aircraft will be available for charter from end of August.
